2018

This year's WAYACHAMP was once again a blast, with great mentors and fun ensemble and team work. I took part in this event along with a number of other Churchlands string players. The program was led and arranged by Shaun Lee-Chen who was also there as a cello mentor. In the WAYACHAMP, we got to perform in two small chamber groups as well as a whole string orchestra. Shaun was a prominent string mentor and he also led one of the two orchestras. Under his direction, we were able to go above and beyond and perform some fun, fast music - his specialty. This has been my second WAYACHAMP and won't be my last. I'd recommend this opportunity to anybody who wants some more exposure to and experience with chamber music, as well as heaps of fun.
